

Soccer
Cameron Stewart

We waited all season, it finally came.
The end of it all, the championship game.

Our team was called the Lakers.
We had a lot of playmakers.

On that day, the air was windy and cold.
We were ready, our team was not about to fold.

We were nervous and our stomachs in knots.
But, gloves, hats, pants...we forgot.

We played for the team 13U.
Out of all our games, we only lost a few.

With all our moves, kicks, headers, and spins.
We had the game. We were going to win.

But, with all the grass tip frost.
The game got away from us and..... we lost.

Our near perfect record was over.
Not the way we wanted to end October.

Soccer for the season was no more.
Well, until January, when we move indoor.
